

Bioproduction and biotechnological services in highest quality

InVivo's success relies on cutting-edge science and technology and meets the highest quality standards on the basis of ISO 9001. Our goal is to provide customer-oriented quality at reasonable rates. Optimal organization and coordination from the procurement of raw materials up to the timely global product distribution are an incentive for the continuous improvement of the company's performance.

Many years of experience in development projects

Our motivation is to implement the customer's requirements economically and transparently in a compelling final product. Our high expertise supports these goal-oriented development activities. We know that trust can be gained only through experience.

Customer expectations

Customer's satisfaction is the main goal of our quality policy, which is implemented by all employees at InVivo BioTech Services GmbH. The wishes and needs of our customers are thoroughly recognized and analyzed. Distinctive quality awareness of internal and external communication is the basis of establishing clear requirements of our products and services.

Quality and improvements are the responsibility of all employees

Our employees work in an environment that encourages and rewards openness, willingness to change, acceptance of responsibility, customer focus and quality awareness. Everybody acts in a quality-conscious manner, thereby detecting and implementing improvements.

Continuous improvement of all our services and processes

Services and processes are constantly refined in terms of quality and efficiency. InVivo invests in new technologies and processes to remain competitive and highly esteemed.
